Larry finished a class that taught him how to read, he landed a job, received a promotion with a raise and is considered a model employee by the company.

Rosalia and her son received support through United Way’s Thriving at 3 educational program. Rosalia quickly learned new parenting skills to help her son’s development, and she connected with a peer group that has also proven to be supportive.

Jamie opened her first bank account, purchased clothing for her daughter and food for her household. Opening the bank account is moving her toward greater financial responsibility and saving, and Jamie’s future is full of possibility!

Jarvis received the support he needed for the critical repairs necessary to keep his house safe, amidst health and financial issues.
